Respected Judges, my worthy opponents, and beloved members of the congregation, an exceptionally good morning to you all.

Today, I stand firmly in support of the motion that "God is the most important key to success in life."

First, what is success?

Success is an ambiguous word, which has different has different aspect such as

Financial, academic, physical, and most importantly spiritual, therefore, to define success you cannot remove one aspect from another. The word success is best defined from

3 john 1:2 Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper (that is economic success) and be in health (This is physical success), even as thy soul prospereth(That is spiritual success)

Secondly, can someone be lazy and still know God?

God is our perfect example, he created the earth and all that in it just six days and on the seventh he rested, a lazy person cannot do that can he? And the bible says in the book of john 5:17 My Father worketh hitherto, and I work. So, if they walk, why can't we?

No wonder James 2:17

"Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone."

So, in conclusion someone may claim to know God and still be lazy, but God does not approve of laziness.

Now that we know that, can someone be lazy and still achieve true success?

Well, it's true that a lazy person cannot achieve some aspects of success, such as financial success. But hard work alone without God factor cannot guarantee you holistic success.

A lazy person that refuses to work can still achieve spiritual success

Finally, can someone know God but still make bad choices?

Yes, someone can know God but still make bad choices especially when he doesn't involve God in his decision. For example, Samson knew God, his parents knew God, but he made a bad choice of marrying Delilah which brought him to his downfall.

The same story follows Ahab; he decided to marry Jezebel. She also brought his downfall.

That is why the book of Proverbs 3:5-6: Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.

So, in conclusion, children of God are called to resist sin and make the right choices by involving God.

So, although people can achieve

Financial success

Academic success

Career success

without knowing God, these achievements are temporary. The Bible teaches that the greatest success is not wealth or fame, but eternal life with God. That is the ultimate success, and it can only be found by having God in your life.

Well, if that is not the case, I pity you all because I saw about how AI is taking over jobs, so your earthly success is under threat. After all what shall it profit a man if he gains the whole world and suffer the loss of his soul.

So, with that said, we are saying that God is the most important key to real success in life and the afterlife.

Thank you all
